

Exercise: Encouraging Participation and Engagement

Activity:

Participation Mapping

Objective:

Identify and understand who participates in garden activities and who might be missing.

Procedure:

- Draw a large map of the garden and create sections for different activities (e.g., workshops, meetings, social events).
- Participants place stickers on the map representing themselves where they are most active.
- Discuss where participation is strong and where it's lacking. Identify groups or individuals who are not engaging.
- Develop strategies to involve underrepresented members, such as personal invitations or specific roles.
